

Mathematics Faculty Position

(part-time, exempt, immediate maternity leave- mid- January)

Tilton School seeks an experienced and energetic Mathematics teacher with a passion for developing student skills and committed to the curricular framework of Understanding by Design, and therefore the “end in mind” of all teaching at Tilton School. The position includes teaching three sections that could include Algebra 1, Geometry, Algebra 2, and some upper level Math courses, under the supervision of the Math Department Head.

Preference will be given to candidates who demonstrate:

- Outstanding skills in oral and written communication;
- Ability to prepare course outline for each teaching assignment and use Google Classroom as a primary tool for communicating course work with students;
- Ability to promptly assess, evaluate, and provide feedback on student work according to the Standards Based Assessment and Reporting (SBAR) guidelines;
- Expertise in the integration of technology into classroom instruction;
- Familiarity with Universal Design for Learning (UDL) and Understanding by Design (UbD);
- An eagerness to work in an intense, changing and supportive learning community.

Other duties for this position include:

- Residential Life Duties
